Hi Mr. Brundige,

Thank you for your email. In order to ensure I am sharing accurate information regarding the public notice and meeting materials availability, I'll need to verify our current policies with my supervisor who is currently out of the office. I will make this a priority upon her return, and I'll provide a detailed response to your inquiry as soon as I am able. Meanwhile, please let me know if you have any other questions.

Sincerely,

John Hawkins

John –

The Planning Commission process is, in my opinion, faulty, and I will be sending an email to various people regarding the Louisville Loop presentation on April 24.

One fault in the process is the lack of review time opponents have when a matter is to come for consideration by the Commission, and in this case my search for Agenda and Case materials at the links shown in the Notice and in the announcement email (see below) did not seem to list any meetings on that date. My guess is that something in the timing of the emails, required notices, and Case Manager workloads is in conflict.

Please let me know, if you will, why the process is out of synch with public needs. I do not believe it is the people involved in performing the work of the process.

Thank you,

- Ray Brundige

Hi Ms. Harral,

As per our conversation today, the Louisville Loop Master Plan can be found under the "Documents" heading at <https://louisvilleky.gov/government/louisville-loop/louisville-loop-master-plans>. The link is titled "Louisville Loop Master Plan (2013)."

The webpage for Louisville Metro Public works is <https://louisvilleky.gov/government/public-works>. Their phone number is available on that page, as well as a contact form to reach them via email.

Please let me know if I can be of any further assistance.

Sincerely,
John Hawkins
